Re: CA, Inc. v. AMX Int'l, Inc.
Docket No: 07-cv-9799 (LTS)

Dear Scott:

I write to advise you, pursuant to Individual Practice Rule 2.B of the Hon. Loretta Taylor Swain, that Plaintiff intends to move for partial summary judgment on Defendant's liability for the claims asserted in this action.

Plaintiff commenced this action to recover money damages for Defendant's use of the Permitted Products¹ in violation of the Negotiated Settlement Agreement. The Negotiated Settlement Agreement permitted Defendant to use the Permitted Products until June 1, 2006, which was later extended to September 1, 2006. See Negotiated Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 4.a, 4.c; see also Complaint, ¶¶ 16, 18. Defendant did not return the Permitted Products to Plaintiff by that date.

Rather, for the thirteen month period between September 1, 2006 and October 2, 2007 (the "Unauthorized Use Period"), Defendant continued to use the Permitted Products without the consent of, and without payment to, Plaintiff. Defendant admitted to this fact, which was conclusively established by Judge Swain's Decision and Order dated September 19, 2007. See Complaint, ¶ 21, Ex. "3" (hereinafter, the "Order"); see also, e.g. Affidavit of Jay Price, sworn to on July 16, 2007, submitted its opposition to Plaintiff's motion to enforce the Negotiated Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 24-25 (admitting that Defendant continued to use the Permitted Products because it was "unable to transition three of [its] existing clients"); Defendant's Certification of Compliance with Court's Order Dated September 19, 2007, dated October 2, 2007.

The Order establishes, as a matter of law, that Defendant used the Permitted Products during the Unauthorized Use Period. See Order, p. 3. Thus, Defendant is now precluded from denying this fact. See Purdy v. Zeldes, 337 F.3d 253, 258 (2d Cir. 2003) (“The doctrine of collateral estoppel prevents a plaintiff from relitigating in a subsequent proceeding an issue of fact or law that was fully and fairly litigated in a prior proceeding”) (citation omitted). Defendant’s unauthorized use of the Permitted Products during the Unauthorized Use Period was a breach of the Negotiated Settlement Agreement. See, generally, Order (rejecting Defendant’s proffered excuses for non-performance of the Negotiated Settlement Agreement).

In an effort to avoid needless motion practice, we ask that you consent to the entry of an order granting Plaintiff summary judgment against Defendant on the issue of liability, leaving only the issue of damages to be decided. If we do not hear from you on this issue by Wednesday, July 9, 2008, we will file Plaintiff’s motion for partial summary judgment, and advise the Court of Plaintiff’s refusal to consent. See Individual Practice Rule 2.B.

Very truly yours,

John P. McEntee

*Re: CA, Inc. v. AMX Int'l, Inc.
07 CV 9799 (LTS)(KNF)*

Dear John:

I am writing to inform you that AMX intends to move for partial summary judgment as to CA's Count One as alleged in the complaint.

As you are aware, the parties entered into a Negotiated Settlement Agreement (the "Agreement"). Paragraph 4c of that Agreement provides for CA's remedies in the event AMX breached its obligations as to the Permitted Products. The only remedy provided for in the Agreement is injunctive relief. CA has already moved for and obtained its relief in the previous action and is not entitled to money damages for any purported misuse of the Permitted Products by AMX. The contract upon which your client's suit is based simply does not provide the remedy that your client seeks.

New York's election of remedies doctrine also bars your client's claim. If CA truly believes that it is entitled to money damages because of AMX's alleged misuse of the Permitted Products, it should have sought that relief in the prior action. Your client did not do so and by seeking only injunctive relief, it elected its remedy and is precluded from seeking monetary damages in the current action.

Additionally, the doctrine of res judicata bars Count One from having any efficacy in the present action. All of the elements of res judicata are satisfied in this case. Judge Swain's previous order enforcing the Agreement and granting permanent injunctive relief precludes the relief sought in your current Count One.

Please note that AMS also seeks to avoid moving the Court for Summary Judgment on this issue. For the reasons articulated above, AMX requests that CA voluntarily withdraw or dismiss Count One. Please respond to this request by July 16, 2008. If we do not hear from you by that date, we will assume that CA has rejected our request and will proceed to file AMX's motion and inform the Court accordingly.

As to your request that we stipulate to entry of judgment, we must respectfully decline. First, as noted above, it is AMX's position that CA does not have a claim under Count One. Second, your client's failure to comply with the initial disclosure requirements of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure prevents AMX from knowing the full scope of the potential damage calculation you intend to present to the Court, assuming CA is not barred by its prior election of remedies or res judicata. Under the circumstances, it would be patently irresponsible for me to recommend to AMX to agree to your request that AMX stipulate to entry of judgment under the terms you propose.

Finally, by way of courtesy and information, given the apparent direction of this litigation, I will be filing the appropriate papers to have Mike Gaffney admitted pro hac vice. Thank you for your courtesy in agreeing not to object to the pro hac vice application.

Very truly yours,

Scott D. Stechman
